DAAD Prize for International Students at RWTH Aachen University

Dear Sir or Madam

The DAAD Prize awards academically excellent international students and PhD candidates for their social and intercultural engagement.

RWTH Aachen University faculties, university organizations, RWTH student associations and the student union ASTA can nominate international students and PhD students for the 2018 DAAD Award who have particularly excelled academically and are also socially or interculturally active. Students cannot apply for the prize themselves; they have to be nominated by the institutions mentioned above.

The award amounts to € 1,000.
International students and PhD students who are advanced in their studies (Bachelor: at least 3rd semester, Master: at least 2nd semester) or have recently completed their studies (in the last three months) or are completing their doctoral studies at RWTH Aachen University can be nominated.

Exchange students and students who have acquired a German university entrance qualification (Bildungsinländer) or students who have already received the DAAD Award cannot be considered.

Please send your nominations via email to the International Office, Ms. Dominika Dudzik by July 4, 2018, including a curriculum vitae and a description of the outlining academic (current performance record) and social and / or intercultural extracurricular achievements (Phone: 80-90833, email: dominika.dudzik@zhv.rwth-aachen.de).

A selection committee will review the nominations and determine the winner. The prize will be awarded during the RWTH Welcome Week in September 2018.

Yours sincerely
On behalf of the rector
The chancellor
